

Poor Internet connectivity in farms, Most Farms located in remote locations

Adapt and learn new technologies for farmers climate changes

The adoptions of access to high-speed internet, mobile devices, and reliable, low-cost satellites (for imagery and positioning) are few key technologies characterizing the precision agriculture trend